

Engineers Australia Victorian Transport Branch and
The Institute of Transportation Engineers Australia & NZ Section Inc.
invite you to attend a free seminar on

Emerging Responses to Sustainable Transport

Sustainable transport has been a hot topic in recent years, with planners and engineers being challenged to rethink traditional approaches to transport planning and policy.

Engineers Australia and ITE are pleased to present a seminar that looks at some of the emerging responses to sustainable transport challenges, with an emphasis on car-sharing and personal vehicle technology. The invited speakers are:

Fiona Calvert

Director Sustainable and Active Transport Policy, Department of Transport
Introductory comments

Geoff Rose

Director Institute of Transport Studies, Monash University and Transport Theme Leader in the Monash Sustainability Institute
"Emerging personal vehicle types"

Kevin Lutén

Director UrbanTrans ANZ
"Transport management associations"

Monique Conheady

CEO and co-founder of Flexicar
"Car sharing"

DETAILS

Date: Wednesday 1 July 2009

Time: 4:00-5:30pm

Location: Department of Transport Theatre
Level 5, 121 Exhibition Street, Melbourne

RSVP

Email seminars@transportbranch.org with your name, company and a contact email address or call Emily McLean, RACV, on (03) 9790 2916 by 5pm on Tuesday 30 June. Email RSVP's will be sent an automated response acknowledging receipt.

RSVP's are essential so we can prepare visitor passes, and must have the above information.

Brought to you by:

This seminar contributes to the continuing professional development requirements for Chartered Professional Engineers.